Marine Le Mouel joined JP Karsenty's criminal law team in January 2021.

In 2019, Marine graduated from the Institut d'Études Politiques de Paris (Sciences-Po) and continued her studies at the College of Europe in Bruges.

She intervenes in matters of offences against property and persons before the repressive jurisdictions. Marine assists her clients during their hearings in police custody or before the investigating judge. She is also involved in advising companies in matters of criminal risk.
